

Resources and Links

Books

As part of the regional implementation, the following three books have been distributed to Client Service Coordinators and Service Providers in Communities across Central Alberta. Several groups have also placed copies in their local libraries.

The Little Book of Person Centered Planning

<http://www.inclusion.com/PLB-PersonCenteredPlanning.html>

Implementing Person Centered Planning

<http://www.inclusion.com/PLB-ImplementingPCPlanning.html>

Person Centered Planning

<http://www.qualitymall.org/products/prod1.asp?prodid=1055>

Websites

Quality Mall

<http://www.qualitymall.org/directory/dept1.asp?deptid=23>

Inclusion Press

<http://www.inclusion.com/PI-PERSON.C.PLANNING.html>

Person Centered Practices

<http://www.reachoflouisville.com/person-centered/whatisperson.htm>

PCP Education Site

<http://www.ilr.cornell.edu/ped/tsal/Enable/>

Publications by John O'Brien

<http://soeweb.syr.edu/thechp/rsapub.htm>

South Carolina

<http://ici2.umn.edu/pcplanning/info/whatis.html>

AAMR

http://www.aamr.org/Policies/faq_planning.shtml

Northumbria University (UK)

<http://www.communigate.co.uk/ne/advocacyindarlington/page9.html>

State of Michigan

http://www.michigan.gov/mdch/0,1607,7-132-2941_4868_4900-14810--,00.html

Pacer Center (Minnesota)

<http://www.pacer.org/text/tatra/personal.htm>

Missouri Workshop

<http://www.missouripeoplefirst.org/workshops/work4.htm>

People to Talk to

During the past year, many people individuals with developmental disabilities, parents, families, service providers, and PDD staff have been involved with Person Centered Planning. Talk to your local Client Service Coordinator or Service Provider about who, in your local community, may be available to share their experiences and provide you with additional information.

Still Want More?

There are literally hundreds of websites with information about Person Centered Planning. To check out more, simply go to www.yahoo.ca and search for Person Centered Planning. If you run across any sites that you think are particularly good, please forward the link to:

Miriam.Ciarciaglino@gov.ab.ca or Stephen.Golub@gov.ab.ca